CITY OF DALLAS

DATE July 21, 2017

TO Honorable Mayor and Members of the City Council

SUBJECT 2017 Capital Bond Program Propositions Update

At the June 28, 2017 meeting, the City Council passed a resolution in support of a $1,025,000,000 Bond program divided into street and transportation needs, parks and trails, improvements and maintenance at city-owned facilities, stormwater, erosion control, and drainage needs, economic development and housing, and Fair Park. During the past three weeks, staff has been working with the City's Bond Counsel to review and finalize the propositions for the upcoming proposed 2017 Capital Bond Program.

City staff initially submitted six draft propositions to our Bond Counsel, Ben Brooks and Julie Partain at Bracewell. The Bond Counsel advised that the Attorney General's (AG) office would have to approve the bonds before they are issued, pursuant to state law (Government Code, Section 1202.003), and that it was a best practice to seek AG's pre-approval of the proposition language to ensure the eventual AG's approval of the bonds' issuance. Through our Bond Counsel, the AG's office expressed concerns with "logrolling" the facilities for various uses (libraries, cultural, public safety, and administrative uses) into one proposition. The AG was also concerned with combining homeless facilities with economic development. The rationale behind the AG's concerns is that the voters should not have to fund administrative facilities to fund library facilities. Separately, the AG expressed doubts that funding homeless facilities would qualify as economic development.

Upon discussions with the AG and through the advice of the Bond Counsel, we have separated the propositions and now have 10. The new proposition language is attached (Attachment 1). The AG's office has approved the attached language but does not need to approve the amounts. Please be advised, however, that the bond amounts for each proposition are subject to change as we are still waiting to hear from some Council Members as to how they will allocate their discretionary $10.5M.

In addition, there are two notable changes in the proposition language from previous bond programs. The first is that the Charter was amended in 2014 to now require the repayment amount for each proposition to be stated. Our financial advisors, PFM, are working with us to provide the repayment amounts for each proposition. The second is that this past legislative session (regular), S.B. 957 was enacted, and it amends the Election Code to require listing non-statewide measures by letter (formerly, the City designated propositions by number). Numbers are now reserved for statewide measures.

CITY OF DALLAS

DATE July 21, 2017

TO Honorable Mayor and Members of the City Council

SUBJECT News Media Responses

As communicated earlier today in an email, Staff responded to requests for information from the Associated Press regarding City Fire Codes and from CBS-11 regarding liability settlement funding. I am providing you the questions and our responses as background information for your reference and in the event you are contacted by the press.

In response to questions from the Associated Press regarding City Fire Codes:

What is the definition of a high-rise building in Dallas?

A high-rise building in the City of Dallas is defined by the International Fire Code as a building with an occupied floor located more than 75 feet above the lowest level of fire department vehicle access.

How many residential high-rise buildings in Dallas do not have sprinkler systems?

Dallas Fire-Rescue has 89 high-rise residential structures on record with 26 listed as non-sprinklered structures. The 26 non-sprinklered include 23 structures with partial coverage (basement for ex) and 3 with no coverage. These are buildings that met the requirements of the Building and Fire Codes in effect at the time of their construction.

For a high-rise residential building built in Dallas before 1981, what are the requirements for them right now as far as sprinkler systems?

As with the intent of the Fire Code, if the occupancy use of a structure hasn't changed since it was constructed nor has undergone renovations significantly affecting the overall structure, the requirements of the code under which the structure was built will continue to stand.

If retrofitting with sprinkler systems is not required, have there been attempts that you know of to require it?

Discussions for retroactive clauses routinely take place with each new code cycle, including those for life safety components such as sprinkler systems. Building and Fire Code officials together examine the feasibility of and impact, both positive and negative, on existing structures by adopting changes to the code. Change proposals must pass before the Fire and Building Code Advisory Boards.

Have the recent high profile fires in high-rise residential buildings in Honolulu and London fires made city officials reconsider any fire sprinkler plans or regulations?

Dallas Fire-Rescue officials examine fires across the country and the globe regularly to determine relevance to structures in our City. To date, DFR has not determined the need for changes to existing Fire Code regulations currently in place.

DATE July 21, 2017
SUBJECT News media responses

Have there been any significant fires in buildings that did not have sprinklers after new rules requiring new buildings to have sprinklers went into effect?

Dallas Fire-Rescue has worked many fires in sprinklered and non-sprinklered structures alike. The significance is determined by the injuries to our citizens, damage to the structures and functionality of the life safety systems in place.

In response to CBS-11 questions regarding liability settlement funding:

Where does the money come from to pay law enforcement liability settlements?

The money comes from the City's Liability Reserve Fund which is funded through the General Fund by taxpayers' dollars.

Does the city budget for these unexpected costs?

For unexpected losses, less than $100,000, the City projects what it is going to pay for the fiscal year.

Does it come out of a department's budget?

Funding for larger claims are determined through consultation with the City Attorney's Office.

Where would this money go if there weren't any settlements?

Departments pay into the Liability Reserve Fund and it then rolls over to the next fiscal year for settlements.

How much money does the city put into this liability reserve fund every year?

The amount paid depends on what we've paid in the past and possible future settlements.

A clerical error was recently discovered affecting the pay for approximately 186 Dallas Fire-Rescue personnel. These employees were scheduled to receive an increase in their certification pay of approximately $100 per month beginning October 2017. Unfortunately, the increase was applied last month in June 2017, which was earlier than scheduled. In the next week, the Human Resources Department will begin issuing letters to these employees advising them of the suspension of the adjustment (until October) and will work with them on a recovery plan for the overpayment.

This error was discovered quickly and the amount of overpayment is minimal. The Fire Associations have been notified, and all effort will be given to make sure the repayment of funds are structured to avoid any adverse impact on employees.

Should you have any questions please contact Chief Coatney or Assistant City Manager Jon Fortune.

CITY OF DALLAS

DATE July 21, 2017

TO Honorable Mayor and Members of the City Council

SUBJECT Cultural Planning Process Update

In late May, City Council authorized a contract with a consultant team led by Lord Cultural Resources to update the Dallas Cultural Policy & Program, last adopted in November 2002. As planned, this effort will take approximately one year to allow ample opportunity for public engagement and input.

The consultants will be in town next week to begin mobilizing their subconsultant teams, tour cultural facilities across the City, and begin to host initial meetings with stakeholders.

A 2018 Dallas Cultural Plan Steering Committee (list attached) is being formed and will have its initial organizing meeting on Tuesday, July 25th from 3-5pm at Dallas Heritage Village. The Committee will be comprised of diverse community stakeholders, including arts organizations and artists of all types and areas of Dallas, educators, funders, and others. The Cultural Affairs Commission will approve the Committee membership by September 2017. The Committee will advise the consultants on the cultural plan development process and recommendations for the Commission and for consideration by City Council. If you have constituents that you wish to recommend, please direct them to contact Brittney DuBose at Brittney.Dubose@dallascityhall.com or (214) 670-8396.

Also, a Special Called Cultural Affairs Commission meeting will be scheduled for Wednesday, July 26th from 9-10 am at the Latino Cultural Center to meet with the consultant.

Both organizing meetings are open to the public, with easily accessible and free parking, and all presentations and materials will be posted online. The public input phase will begin in September and will offer numerous opportunities (public meetings, online and phone surveys, focus groups, interviews, etc.) for feedback. Additionally, starting on July 25th anyone can sign up for updates regarding this project via the OCA website: www.dallasculture.org.

We will continue to provide City Council with periodic updates. If you have questions, please contact me at (214) 670-3009 or Jennifer Scripps, Director of the Office of Cultural Affairs at (214) 671-2828.

Memorandum

DATE July 21, 2017
TO Honorable Mayor and Members of the City Council
SUBJECT Call Center Update

We continue to focus proactive efforts to enhance the 911 Call Center. The purpose of this memo is to provide a status report of the various tasks and activities underway. The Center for Performance Excellence have begun their evaluation of the hiring process and procedures to determine if additional improvements are needed. An analysis from their findings and recommendations are forthcoming. The following report provides an updated status summary of the tasks currently in progress. Some highlights of recent activities are listed below.

The Dallas Police Department will continue to work on increasing their staffing levels and maintaining the service level goal of 90% of calls answered within 10 seconds. The average call answer time for June 2017 was within the target goal.

Communication & Information Services is in the process of implementing staffing software (IEX) for scheduling and forecasting. This software will enable management to plan more accurately and schedule more effectively for call peak staffing.

Equipment & Building Services have started construction on several projects such as remodeling the kitchen/breakroom areas and restroom/locker rooms. Enhancement of the custodial work has also started to provide a deeper weekly cleaning. Projects are still on schedule to be completed between August 2017 and October 2017.

Please let me know if you have questions or need additional information.
