

Evacuating your home in the face of an impending natural disaster is stressful enough, and even more so for those with pets in tow. Unless you have family nearby, you're probably frantically searching for a pet-friendly place for you and your family to stay to wait out the storm. Thankfully, the Dallas-Fort Worth area has plenty of pet-friendly hotels as well as boarding facilities, which we have listed below in an effort to make your evacuation process a little easier.

Temporary Housing

Air BNB regularly teams up with its gracious hosts in order to offer free temporary housing to those displaced by natural disasters. Click here to search for available residences and be sure to check the individual listings to see which ones are pet-friendly.

Hotels

Here is a list of local hotels that allow pets – please be sure to confirm whether there are any additional fees for pets. Updated list available at <https://tinyurl.com/ybhcep7p>.

Boarding Facilities

Please find below a list of boarding facilities in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. In the event that you are unable to find lodging that will accommodate your pet, these facilities are capable of providing care for your pet during your displacement.
