CARPENTER PARK PROJECT OVERVIEW

INFORMATION

LOCATION

The east end of Downtown, bounded by Central Expressway, Live Oak Street, North Pearl Expressway and Pacific Avenue. Land for the park is owned entirely by the City of Dallas and the Texas Department of Transportation.

DESCRIPTION

The former Carpenter Plaza (built by the City of Dallas and the Carpenter family in 1979–81), undergoing a major renovation that will create the largest park in Downtown Dallas.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES

The site of Robert Berks' statue of revered civic leader John W. Carpenter Sr. and "Portal Piece (Slice)" by renowned American sculptor Robert Irwin. Both sculptures will be reinstalled in the renovated park which will feature large open lawn areas, gardens, a low-arc fountain, outdoor dining and food trucks, basketball courts, a bocce ball court, a skate park and a dog park.

PACIFIC PLAZA PROJECT OVERVIEW

INFORMATION

LOCATION

The center of Downtown, bounded by Harwood Street, Bryan Street, North St. Paul Street and Pacific Avenue. Land for the park is owned entirely by the City of Dallas.

DESCRIPTION

The site was identified as a prime park opportunity in the 2004 Downtown Parks Master Plan. With bridge funding from The Trust for Public Land and permanent funding from the 2006 City of Dallas Bond Program, the Park and Recreation Department was able to acquire the site over a three-year period.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES

Pacific Plaza is envisioned as a neighborhood park surrounded by important architecture, including the Republic Bank complex, the art deco U. S. Post Office building, One Dallas Center, the back of the Majestic Theater, the Corrigan / Tower Petroleum building complex, and First City Center. At the south end of the site, Aston Park will be incorporated into the new, larger park and one block of Live Oak Street will be closed. Pacific Plaza will be the center point of the Harwood Street Pedestrian Corridor running from Klyde Warren Park to the Farmers Market.

HARWOOD PARK PROJECT OVERVIEW

INFORMATION

LOCATION

The Farmers Market District of Downtown, bounded by South Pearl Expressway, Jackson Street, Harwood Street and Young Street. More than 90 percent of the land for the park is owned by Parks for Downtown Dallas and The Decherd Foundation.

DESCRIPTION

The site is partly within the Harwood Historic District and includes six buildings, several of which will be incorporated into the park itself. The orientation of the site affords dramatic views of several of the most historic buildings in Dallas, including the Scottish Rite Museum & Library, the Masonic Temple, First Presbyterian Church, the Lone Star Gas buildings, the Statler Hilton and former Dallas Public Library, the Titcher-Goettinger building, and the Mercantile Bank complex.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES

The combination of structures and park will make this one of the most imaginative urban spaces in the United States. Because of this combination and the size of the site, there is room for large lawns and gathering areas, sports activities and games, a large children's play area, a dog park, and function spaces. This site also presents the opportunity for historical narratives concerning its history and the Dallas film industry that was once centered here.

HARWOOD PARK

- 0.73 acre site
- City does not currently own land
 - Site identified in the 2004 Downtown Parks Master Plan
 - $4.6M reserved in 2006 Bond Program for land acquisition for 607 Corbin Street
 - PfDD has committed to contributing additional funds for land acquisition costs if needed
 - Site strongly favored by West End Business Association, Downtown Dallas Inc., and the Dallas Innovation Alliance
- PfDD willing to fund schematic design phase

WEST END PLAZA PROJECT OVERVIEW

INFORMATION

LOCATION

The West End Historic District of Downtown, bounded by North Market Street, Corbin Street, North Record Street and the Spaghetti Warehouse building. Currently, this site is privately owned.

DESCRIPTION

The site was identified as a dynamic park opportunity in the 2004 Downtown Parks Master Plan. In the 2006 bond program, $4.2 million was allocated for land purchase of this site. The Park Department is developing plans to purchase the site, and will engage a landscape architecture firm to create a schematic design for the plaza that reflects input from West End residents, tenants and property owners.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES

The West End Historic District is one of Downtown's most important assets. In recent years, it has become a hub for technology innovation and start-up companies through entities such as the Dallas Entrepreneur Center and the Dallas Innovation Alliance. The District has been selected as a pilot site for the White House's "Smart Cities" initiative. Residential, entertainment and tourism venues combine to give the West End its distinctive character.
